When I'm all alone I still see your face
And I constantly think
About the times that you made me feel
Oh how you made me feel
I wonder how you'd be without me here
I wonder how you'd be without me here

You obviously feel something if I took away your breath
And then I gave in
You've gotta mean something to me if I can't keep leaving
And it's all too much for me to be without you

When you look at yourself in the mirror tell me what you see
It's killing me 'cause you know you cut this deep
I know that you feel something without me you can't breathe
I've died inside and now my pain is free

You obviously feel something if I took away your breath
And then I gave in
You've gotta mean something to me if I can't keep leaving
And it's all too much for me to be without you

When you hold my hand I feel alive
As blood runs through my chest
When you hold my hand I feel alive

Take me away

You obviously feel something if I took away your breath
And then I gave in
You've gotta mean something to me if I can't keep leaving
And it's all too much for me to be without yo
