

Disregarded

Alter Bridge

I should have seen it coming
But how could I have known
The scheme that they were running
Would leave me in the cold?

I should have known from the start
I'd be disregarded
Left on my own in the dark
With the truth discarded again, no way

Don't wanna play the victim
But tell me who to trust
For how much I have given
But still it's not enough

Now everyone is laughing
Thinking I am done
But somehow, still, I'm standing
And the best is yet to come

I should have known from the start
I'd be disregarded
Left on my own in the dark
With the truth discarded again, no

Tell me why, tell me why you
Always lie, always lie

I should have known from the start
I'd be disregarded
Left on my own in the dark
With the truth discarded

I should have known from the start
I'd be brokenhearted
Left on my own in the dark
I won't be discarded again
