

Rue The Day

Alter Bridge

And once again
It's all been blown to hell
It always seems to be the same way

As he pretends
That he is something else
The devil tries to play the saint

He'll just watch you twist and turn
Laughing all the way

Breathe it in, breathe it out
It's up to you
Stand your ground
Don't let him get his way
He pulls you in, tears you down
In the end
There's no doubt
Oh, you're gonna live to rue the day

What's coming next?
Judgement for all the schemes?
God, I detest
The things I've seen

Don't fail the test
Revenge is fantasy
Eye for an eye
Not meant to be, no

Don't fall prey
And don't give in

Breathe it in, breathe it out
It's up to you
Stand your ground
Don't let him get his way
He pulls you in, tears you down
In the end
There's no doubt
Oh, you're gonna live to rue the day
Live to rue the day

Just like the desert sun
The respite never comes
Day in, day out, it's never ending
Constructs of ill intent
Have filled your heart again
Please find the center and let go, oh

Even though you've done no wrong
You fear you're not that strong
Though part of you is dead and gone
You still have control

Breathe it in, breathe it out
It's up to you

Stand your ground
He pulls you in, tears you down
In the end
There's no doubt
