

Mediator

AlunaGeorge

He would split a new commitment so
You're in a difficult positional
I'm not gonna fight for both of you, you
I don't think this is fixable
I'm not gonna get political
But darling there's no hope for you, you

You come knocking at my door
And whose gonna pick you up the floor?
Yeah whose the one whose really torn to...
I will always be your mediator
I will always be your mediator
Let me talk to him
Let me be your friend
He's no good for you
He don't need your help
You can trust in me
And you can thank me later

There are times you're conceivable
You look at me all critical
And you know that I'll stick up for you, you
But taking sides is a foolish game
Cause in the end they won't remove the pain
And I'm trying to give you the truth, truth

You come knocking at my door
And whose gonna pick you up the floor?
Yeah whose the one whose really torn to...

I will always be your mediator
I will always be your mediator
Let me talk to him
Let me be your friend
He's no good for you
He don't need your help
You can trust in me
And you can thank me later

Talk to me
I'll hook you up with a
Little bit of wine, smoke and uh
Little bit of wine, pour it up
Have you smiling again

I will always be your mediator
I will always be your mediator
Let me talk to him
Let me be your friend
He's no good for you
He don't need your help
You can trust in me
And you can thank me later
