

Fade Away

Always Never

Then you crashed through my door
You got your blood on my walls
No one asked where you were
'Cause it's been way too long
And all of their sympathy
Has faded away
To face your depravity
Is the price you pay
Oh, babe

Back seat of the Uber now
And I'm on, on a wave
And goddamn, I ain't seeing straight
It's a little fucking late
To be sorry 'bout your ways
God, I'd love to fuckin' fade away
No problems if I fade away
And I say it just because
I don't really mean it but
If push came to shove

I'd find a way to fade away
I'll find a way to fade away
I'll find a way to fade away
I'll find a way to fade away
I'll find a way to fade away
I'll find a way to fade away
I'll find a way to fade away
I'll find a way to fade
Find a way to fade

Been talking kind of dark lately
I'm a little fucking sad now
It's like I have no heart, baby
And no one left the lights on
Maybe it's the seasons changing
But it's probably my past though
So I'ma take another shot
And another shot
And another shot
'Til I don't remember anymore
