

The Boy Is Mine

Alyson Stoner

Try to come between us if you really want
My baby don't need your love, I swear he don't Tell him it's divine destiny and you belong
My baby don't need to know, I swear he don't

And I need more concern, he was interested
If I fear I had any trouble pleasing him, but I clearly do fine
Yeah, why would he look around when he got the best?
Honey, please shut your mouth, it's a waste of breath and time, why do you try?

That boy is mine now
I'm my baby's one and only girl
That boy is mine, every night, every day
Everywhere, everywhere-where-where, that's all good, why do you try?
That boy is mine now
I'm my baby's one and only girl
That boy is mine, every night, every day
Everywhere, everywhere-where-where, that's all good, why do you try?

Try to say it different if you really want
My baby won't listen no, I swear he won't
Tell him what he's missing and you got it all
Sorry but his hands are fold, no really though

And I need more concern, he was interested
If I fear I had any trouble pleasing him, but I clearly do fine
Yeah, why would he look around when he got the best?
Honey, please shut your mouth, it's a waste of breath and time, why do you try?

That boy is mine now
I'm my baby's one and only girl
That boy is mine, every night, every day
Everywhere, everywhere-where-where, that's all good, why do you try?
