

A Million Voices

Alyssa Reid

Don't wanna wake up alone again
I still hear you talkin' in my head
So I drown the sound out with a brand new friend
But I only love him when he's in my bed

I was so lonely
Don't you want me?

I can't get you outta my mind, I hear a million voices
I'm tired of fakin' smiles, all of these walls keep closin' in
I can't see, I can't breath, I can't sleep from all the noises
I can't get you outta my mind, I hear a million voices

They keep playin' back our sad goodbye
Then they tell me to pretend I'm fine
They scream your name, and still it cuts like knives
But I sing along like it's a lullaby

I was so lonely
Don't you want me?

I can't get you outta my mind, I hear a million voices
I'm tired of fakin' smiles, all of these walls keep closin' in
I can't see, I can't breath, I can't sleep from all the noises
I can't get you outta my mind, I hear a million voices

I hear a million voices
I hear a million voices

I can't get you outta my mind, I hear a million voices
I'm tired of fakin' smiles, all of these walls keep closin' in
I can't see, I can't breath, I can't sleep from all the noises
I can't get you outta my mind, I hear a million voices

I hear a million voices
I hear a million voices