

A Part of Something Missing

AM

Have you noticed that I'm standing back on my feet
It doesn't matter if you don't feel like talking to me
Now I realize that everything was in my head
It doesn't matter what you're thinking if it cannot be said

Yeah you are always a part of something missing
Yeah you are always a part of something missing

I once believed in the words that you used to say
I was always moving closer now I'm moving away
I'm gonna move far away, far from it all
Nothings ever what it seems till you rise from your fall

Yeah you
You're always a part of something missing
Yeah you
You're always a part of something missing

Yeah you
You're always a part of something missing
Yeah you
You're always a part of something missing
Always a part of something missing
Always a part of something missing
