Being

AmaLee

In this current moment my heart's throbbing
And we're moving way too fast
Hand in hand, it's hard to understand

Time and time again you've left me struggling in the dark
And now it seems we're growing far apart
Yet even when I'm falling you're the one who gives me hope
Your being is the light that claims I'm never alone

Can I leave behind all the times that I've lied?
I want to trust in the smile that gave me a purpose

So I know now you're the one whom I want to protect You're my one and only

In this current moment my heart's throbbing
And we're moving way too fast
So let's soar above our fates and make a path

Even though it's hard to find a path, I'll never give up hope
You're the one who I'll try to keep close
