

Call Me King

AmaLee

I wasted years, gave you my life
And I think that's the biggest crime
You said forever but my trust in you was severed
When you left my faith to die

Nothing quite inspires like a broken heart
Glad ya really hit me hard
You said forever, yeah, my sanity was severed
And now I'm the new monarch

It's not quite how we rehearsed
But I wanna hear it from you first (from you first)

Call me king
I don't need anything from you now that I'm king
So call me king
And I might, yeah, I might show a little mercy
(Nah, fuck it)

We made a promise in the light
We swore to set the kingdom right
We could be heroes but ya blew that all to zero
And this whole thing ends tonight

I'll show you what happens when you mess with god
Come on, baby take your shot
We could be heroes, yeah, ya blew that all to zero
And now I'm the new monarch

It's not quite how we rehearsed
But I wanna hear it from you first (from you first)

Call me king
I don't need anything from you now that I'm king
So call me king
And I might, yeah, I might show a little mercy
So call me king
And I might, yeah, I might show a little mercy
So call me king
And I might, yeah, I might show a little mercy
So call me king

You messed with the wrong bitch but somehow you're still alive
Bossed up respect myself I accept this villain vibe
The monster that you made had you diggin' your own grave
I drank your light, rose from embers, metamorphosis
You messed with the wrong bitch but somehow you're still alive
Bossed up respect myself I accept this villain vibe
The monster that you made had you diggin' your own grave
I drank your light, rose from embers, so you can call me king
