

Catch The Moment

AmaLee

I sigh, saying that I'm fine with every breath of mine
This regret, it leaves another bitter taste
Yeah

Why does the sun shine
But only when I slip and make a new mistake?
'Cause I hate the feeling it's all a waste

If I could cut away my fate with this blade

I would if that'd let me re-start
But something tells me if that happened
I might not see you there

I'm only held by the limit inside my soul
The voice in my heart -
I trust it will break the mold that it holds

It will never end - May it never end
No matter what's in store

We must be faster 'cause right now there's no more time
I fear at this rate, the world will leave us behind - And so I Wonder how long I have left with you, in this life?
There's not a minute we should waste

CATCH THE MOMENT

So will you seize today with me?
Because it's fleeting, like a dream
