Enamel

AmaLee

Let's descend from this place
No time to waste
If you'd just take my hand...
We could take our first steps
Straight down this staircase
Unto the end

Even though the path ahead is torn and twisted
There's no limit to the blades that we keep hidden
Cut up the night til it bleeds...
Bright red like a rose

I... hate that I still remember
These cold, dark memories
I wish I could forget

So help me
Your sly kiss is all I need
If you devote yourself to me

Graceful, delicate notes
Come forth like gold
From your cold fingertips
I can hear it unfurl
Through the enamel
Like an eclipse

In the deep, the memories, they pull you under
But those moments are the ones that bring us closer
I see it so clear finally...
In the depths of my mind

I... know we can never turn back
We're bound together in this world like one big cage
Forever, we will always be as one
Even into oblivion

I... hate that I still remember
These cold, dark memories
I wish I could forget

So help me
Your sly kiss is all I need
If you devote –
Oh, yes my lord!

Know we can never turn back
We're bound together in this world like one big cage
Forever, we will always be as one
Even into oblivion
