

Equation Of Happiness

AmaLee

Turn up the beat
The pounding of my heart's at the MAX
My dreams will come true
And you're one who's holding the key

On my way home I bump into you
And suddenly I don't know what to do
You're standing close to me
My heart is bound to burst from its seams

The rising rhythm
The beat of my heart
I can't control it
I may fall apart
No, not yet - It's no sweat, I've got it in check...
But then you look my way

Love and hate go hand in hand
Some say the difference is paper-thin
But if you don't understand
I'll have to show just how much I love you

Turn up the beat
The pounding of my heart's at the MAX
Doesn't it feel today's a scene from a play?
Just give me the sign to raise the curtains

All of the hate will surely never outshine the love
It's only a dream for now, but when I wake up
I know you'll be there and with you I can do anything
