

Fly High

AmaLee

Gonna fly high
Spread your wings and leap into the sky
Leave all your worries behind
You can make it, make it come on
You're gonna fly, fly high
Soar into the distant sky

A little baby bird still new to the world
Bruised and hurt, it glares at the sky
Those other birds flying in low altitude
Just let them laugh away
They'll never get to say that they were right

Let the wind blow through your soul
Let it fill your lungs and fuel your heart
You're ready, set, go
Hop, step, take the leap

Gonna fly high
Spread your wings and leap into the sky
Leave all your worries behind
You can go anywhere that you wanna go
And though you're green, you are free
Your instinct telling you to claw and fight
No matter what lies ahead
Know you can make your, make your dreams all come true
And fly, fly high
Soar into the distant sky

The rain came pouring down from blackening clouds
And suddenly my wings were useless
On the path ahead, that dark storm awaits
It's one you can't escape
But you'll rise in its wake to see the light

The approaching, rolling thunder
Like crashing waves, the sound
Like the applause from a crowd
Count down with me now

Gonna fly high
With this fire burning in your heart
It shines wherever you are, so let it guide your soul
And shine from within and
Light the way when dawn breaks
Watch the blossom of your talent bloom
So then 'til you reach the end
Aim to overcome your limits
And you will fly

Gonna fly high
Spread your wings and leap into the sky
Leave all your worries behind
You can go anywhere that you wanna go
And though you're green, you are free
Your instinct telling you to claw and fight, yeah
You can make, make it, come on you're

Gonna fly high
With this fire burning in your heart
It shines wherever you are, so let it guide your soul
And shine from within and
Light the way when dawn breaks
Watch the blossom of your talent bloom
So then 'til you reach the end
Aim to overcome your limits
And you will fly, fly high
Soar into the distant sky
