

Freckles / Sobakasu

AmaLee

I brushed against those freckles that I hated so
Life goes on and I have a little sigh for you
It's heavy, the love that I would share for you
But it dissolves like it was just sugarcube
Now the little pain sitting in my heart
Has shrunk in a bit, but it really does hurt me now
Those silly horoscopes, I
Guess I can't trust them after all
If we could get further away
I wonder what it would be like...?
Yay!
I'd be so happy
Inside my heart
All the memories I have are beautiful in my mind
But they don't feed the hunger deep inside my soul
And tonight I thought
I'd be just sitting in my sorrow
And now I must wonder why
What did it really mean to you?
I just can't see it anymore!
I just can't see it anymore...
Oh-oh-oh-oh-oh-oh-ohhhhhh...
