

Let It All Burn

AmaLee

The darkness wraps itself around me
A looming lingering shadow
As I watch the world begin to burn away
I feel it rise deep within me
And I can't look away

The fabric of time is breaking
And I can't leave this up to fate

The fire in your heart is burning just like mine, pretending
Kills the flame, let it all burn
You feel like crying, turn your voice up to the sky, it's ending
Let it out, let it all burn

Can you hear my voice calling?
Can you see me falling deeper into this abyss?
Lost in a quantum labyrinth?

The hope residing in a dream world
Eternity in the moment
As I watch the world begin to burn away
I need the strength to set it all free
And I can't look away

The fabric of time is breaking
And I can't leave this up to fate

The fire in your heart is burning just like mine, pretending
Kills the flame, let it all burn
You feel like crying, turn your voice up to the sky, it's ending
Let it out, let it all burn

The fire in your heart is burning just like mine, pretending
Kills the flame, let it all burn
You feel like crying, turn your voice up to the sky, it's ending
Let it out, let it all burn

Let it out, let it all burn
Let it out, let it all burn
