Monster Without A Name

AmaLee

A dying fairy tale
Just took its last breath
It once sung through these halls
Though blocked by brick hospital walls
Fog is covering the night
The blood red moon floating up high
Hey, can you keep your eyes on me?
And make it everything you see?

Behind these bars, behind this world of iron
My soul was born, and now, at last, it's my turn
So in exchange for my complete revenge
I'll grant you any wish spoken from your lips

We'll bring forth the mercy and the justice
Destroy them all before they even touch us
We'll pay the price - a karma-paradise
And walk ahead as one
Becomin' a monster without a name

I'm hearing static in my mind
Like a barbed-wire symphony
A song from days so long ago
A song that I no longer know

The pouring rain still hasn't stopped
My vision fades with every drop
Shall we just take a look outside
And see the storm before our eyes?

Let the rain continue falling on this
Unwanted soul, in case you haven't noticed
The guilty sin of my neurotic mind
I share it with the strangers passing me by

So bring forth the mercy and the justice
Embrace these scars I know will never vanish
My whole body, accepting all of me
We'll walk ahead as one, Becoming a monster without a name

Ahh, by God's word
True judgment will be passed on this world

Behind these bars, behind this world of iron
My soul was born, and now, at last, it's my turn
So in exchange for my complete revenge
I'll grant you any wish spoken from your lips

We'll bring forth the mercy and the justice
Destroy them all before they even touch us
We'll pay the price - a karma-paradise
And walk ahead as one
With all that we've done

Let the rain continue falling on this
Unwanted soul, in case you haven't noticed
The guilty sin of neurotic mind

I share it with the strangers passing me by

So bring forth the mercy and the justice
Embrace these scars I know will never vanish
My whole body, accepting all of me
We'll walk ahead as one, Becoming a monster without a name
