Good morning once again
I don't care what day it is of the year (the year)
The morning light
Makes my worries disappear

Every time my kitty takes a nap
Each time that he meows
In his diary it's
Written in a snap

Every time the swing in the park sways
Each time the children play
Their dreams are written down
Of the passing days

Every time the clock counts minutes by
Each time a person sighs
In hopes that time will fly everything is written down

Even the count
Of how many times I called your name
It's all written here
But there will never be enough pages to record my love for you
ONE, TWO, THREE, FOUR, FIVE, AND SIX

Good morning once again
I don't care what day it is of the year (the year)
My dream last night was we'd meet again my dear

Every time a star twinkles in space (nikki ni wa)
Each time a wish is made
In the diary it's written
In the perfect place

Every time curtains puff in and out (nikki ni wa)
Each time someone is kissed
Secrets ride on the wind and are
Written with no doubt

Every time a rocket fails to fly (nikki nara)
Each time it sees that sky (each time it sees that sky)
Its dreams of soaring high are written in the diary

Even the count
Of how many times I called your name
Are written down
Even my own dreams of flying with you the count down is no game
SEVEN, SIX, FIVE, FOUR, THREE, TWO, ONE

KISSING YOU

MY DIARY IS DREAMING OF KISSING YOU
(KISSING YOU)
MY DIARY IS DREAMING OF KISSING YOU

Good morning love

Good morning once again
Good morning once again
Good morning once again
Good morning love
