Hello night
You're as quiet as the sea as you wash over the town
I'm alone on this winding road
Will I ever find my way?

I walk on guided by a distant voice
I can hear it call my name
Will I search all eternity inside these endless waves of stormy night
For your light

Hey, are you the one I'm searching for?
Call with your heart and I will hear it beat
You will be found
No matter how lost you are
I will hear you my love

Hello light
You have found a place to shine
You light every heart and home
Will I too find where I belong?
Just how much longer must I walk without you by my side?

Hey, are you the one I'm searching for?
Something is telling me stay by you
I will remain forever though the tides may try to pull me away
one day
I'll never forget you
I promise I'll never leave again

Finally I have found the one I'm searching for
And something's telling me to stay by you
I will remain forever though the tides may try to pull me away
one day
Forever... Forever... Forever... Forever... Forever...
