

Orange

AmaLee

We were walking side by side
Just a single step away
I wish I could recall
What made us laugh at all
How I miss the magic of those ordinary days

The whole world, it disappears
When I close my eyes and hear
Words that turn the sky
An orange sunset
Only with the sound of your voice

I admit, when you're not here
Everything feels so boring and grey
But I'm scared to say that I'm lonely
'Cause I don't know if that's strange

All the things you've left behind
I'll make sure they are kept in the light
And like stars, they'll never disappear, but shine at night

After the storm has passed,
I looked up at the sky
That brilliant blue
A bittersweet goodbye

I remember how we laughed
It always makes me smile
Those happy memories
I never will forget

And ever since that day
I know things haven't changed
We're still the same
Both innocent at heart

Though the seasons come and go

And sunshine turns to snow
We will always have tomorrow up ahead

Every time I feel alone
I remember when we chose
To stay up all night
Under the moonlight
When we both just couldn't fall asleep

From here on
As time will pass
How I wonder the sights you will see
And although I hope
I know that they won't be the same for me

Even now, it's still all so clear
And your voice is the music I hear
You are still the orange of the sunset in my dreams

Among a million stars, a single love is born
A burning light to last the test of time
How I hope you never change
But hey, even if you do
You always will be you
I know that much is true

When many years have passed
How I hope that we look back
And see it clear
Like it's a photograph

All the people that we meet
And our friends and family
It'd be nice if we could all meet up again

After the storm has passed

I remember how we laughed
Those happy memories

Among a million stars, a single love is born

And sunshine turns to snow

We will always have, tomorrow
Up ahead
