

Overfly

AmaLee

Hands up high
Raise them high
And cast your worries to the sky
And there's no doubt
Not one doubt
As I make my wish and let it cry out

If I gathered all the love in my heart
That grows with every passing day
I would find a confusing puzzle
That changes and, rearranges
Will I ever find my place
I'm not sure
Or will I forever feel insecure
And the moments all the questions fade
I notice my tears
But can't hold them back

Maybe it's too late, I've lost my chance
All of my questions, shall go unanswered
Will I keep fighting, to find the light
Or will I descend, to a bitter end?

Hands up high
Raise them high
And case your worries to the sky
If you can't stand, then take my hand
And I will rise to fight by your side
My beating heart is burning on
And as it races I realize
And there's no doubt, not one doubt
As I make my wish and let it cry out

I have always danced to my own beat
But you always throw me out of sync
'Cause around you I am holding back
And I'm mastering a fake brave smile

Maybe it's too late, I've lost my dreams
All of my wishes come true, I'll lay here
If I wake up now, I'll lose this moment
I fear my dreams will fade around me

I'm so close
Yet so far
I can't reach out to where you are
I give my heart
I give my soul
But some things are not in our control
Your hands not meant for me to hold
And I'll be lonely when you're gone
I'm aware, so aware
Only through my memory you'll be there

It's not the destiny that I've dreamed of
And as I cry I know this is goodbye
How can I ever reach you

When I can't even see the sky?

Hands up high

Raise them high

And cast your worries to the sky

If you can't stand, then take my hand

And I will rise to fight by your side

My beating heart is burning on

And as it races I realize

And there's no doubt

Not one doubt

As I make my wish and let it cry out
