

Ready To

AmaLee

Hey, are you ready to go?
'Cause you know the way to go
I believe in my own way
So let's go to brand new world

In the dark, you follow the horizon
As you become just another shadow in the night
Just beyond the howling in the distance
You'll set your sights on the one that you've been trying to find

I won't stop for one moment more
Sprinting through this world that's spinning on

Just be true to the color that is hidden in you
You can change it to how you like it, how you want it
Jump right over the shadows that are nearing closer
Go your own way, don't hesitate, just go ahead

Life is just like a relent of regret
Realizing there are things we can't protect
Every time you fail and cry, again you try
'Cause you're growing stronger through the tears

Everyone thinks differently what they believe
Their sense of justice clouding up the endless sky
Though I'm trying desperately I still can't reach
That bright light that is shining down on me

I'll be proud of the future and I'll scream it loud
The sunlight's shining on me and you to see this through
I will believe in light and I will let it guide me
Show me the way, tomorrow is a mystery

The truth's almost blinding
But not mesmerizing
So over the the lies I'll leap
No, I won't let it blind me

But this path you've chosen
Shows the world in motion
Though you don't know where it leads
Surely you'll find the spark of hope

Hey, are you ready to go?
'Cause you know the way to go
What you do is up to you
Make the future what you love

Just be true to the color that is hidden in you
You can change it to how you like it, how you want it
Jump right over the shadows that are nearing closer
Go your own way, don't hesitate, just go ahead

I'll be proud of the future and I'll scream it loud
The sunlight's shining on me and you to see this through
I will believe in light and I will let it guide me
Show me the way, tomorrow is a mystery

Hey, are you ready to go?
'Cause you know the way to go
I believe in my own way
So let's go to brand new world
