Two souls unite
A fire like a spotlight
It points the way to your heart
It's getting louder, stronger
I know that you can hear it
But can't describe it in words

All at once, our fates they've intertwined
Within a single glance, when your eyes met mine
We've gotta get through this unbearable night
And I'll see to it with you by my side

Chasing a dream that shone too brightly, blinding our hearts
It was leading us on into a nightmare

Two souls unite
A fire like a spotlight
It points the way to your heart
It's getting louder, stronger
I know that you can hear it
But can't describe it in words
We were linked by fate
And our souls drew together
For reasons we'll never know
But as we're earning our scars
The answer's getting clearer
It leads me closer to you

Brush away this world disguised in lies
You've gotta stand up and fight, you can't run and hide
Just wait and see, the fight has almost begun
Can't wait to shatter these glass illusions

In your embrace, I hear you say you're never alone
But your love is too strong, it only brings more pain

Don't you let go
The promise of tomorrow
May not be easily seen
But every day our bond grows
A warm and steady heartbeat
So in it, I will believe
We were linked by fate
And our souls drew together
For reasons we'll never know
But as we're earning our scars
The answer's getting clearer
It leads me closer to you

Two souls unite
A fire like a spotlight
It points the way to your heart
It's getting louder, stronger
I know that you can hear it
I can't describe it in words
We were linked by fate
And our souls drew together

For reasons we'll never know
But as we're earning our scars
The answer's getting clearer
It leads me closer to you
