Tick tock
Tick tock
Brand new world with you
Brand new world with you

There's no way to know when miracles happen
There's no rhyme or reason for when they occur
Maybe it's a prank fate has us wrapped up in
But that's fine because...

That's how it all begins
Though we don't know
What the future holds for us
Come on let's go!
And paint tomorrow's sky

I can't show you what's in my heart
I can't show you if we're apart
I can't show you until we start
That's just how this feeling works
I can't show you what's in my heart
I can't show you if we're apart
I can't show you until we start
That's just how this feeling works
Maybe

(Tick tock...)

What I felt for you came out of no where
Though it makes no sense I just can't help but think
Now that moments past that much I know is clear
Even so the memory will never disappear
Forever more...
I wish that my heart could be
An open door
That I could open wide!

We can't play tomorrow back
We're too far along this track
Our today we can't take back
That's just how this feeling works
We can't play tomorrow back
We're too far along this track
Our today we can't take back
That's just how this feeling works
Maybe

Words I try to keep inside
Keep on spilling out
Every colour in the sky
They're more than I could ever count
Makes me think how grey and bleak it's be Without your smile around

Right now!
Come one let's go!
To somewhere so far away

And make it so
Our dreams will never end!

I can't show you what's in my heart
I can't show you if we're apart
I can't show you until we start
That's just how this feeling works
I can't show you what's in my heart
I can't show you if we're apart
I can't show you until we start
That's just how this feeling works

Brand new world with you
Brand new world with you
That's just how this feeling works
Maybe
Brand new world with you
Brand new world with you
That's just how this feeling works
