We can finally now gaze upon the sight
The stairs that tower so high, they stretch on endless into the sky
We can't escape our destiny but I would give my everything, 'til I'm no longer breathing
Never let you go, never let you go
Only when the light inside is blinding bright will I go

Can you tell me just how far you think we'll make it in this future we seek We're aiming for a level no one ever has reached
The answer, gotta see it come to life
See it clear with my own eyes
I'll rise a hundred times, with an iron will I will survive
Overcome the challenges still in our way, so many people saying we can't make it to my face
Even if we're blind we gotta run straight through, we'll see this to the end
It's up to me and you

We can finally now gaze upon the sight
The stairs that tower so high, they stretch on endless into the sky
We can't escape our destiny but I would give my everything, 'til I'm no longer breathing
Never let you go, never let you go
Only when the light inside is blinding bright will I go

No turning back, go on
Don't ever look back
Look up in the sky keep up, go on
Never let you go, never let you go
Only when the light inside is blinding bright will I go

There's nothing left I care about
I don't even care who wins now but if someone ever tried to show me up
I'll break through and I won't knock
Light a match and light 'em up
I'm a storm no one could ever stop and I know we learn to move on with time, listen I know it's so hard
Something knocks you down you gotta get back up
So see it til the end until you're at the top

We can finally now gaze upon the sight
The stairs that tower so high, they stretch on endless into the sky
We can't escape our destiny but I would give my everything, 'til I'm no longer breathing
Never let you go, never let you go
Only when the light inside is blinding bright will I go

No turning back, go on
Don't ever look back, look up in the sky keep up, go on
Never let you go, never let you go
Only when the light inside is blinding bright will I go

Even if I fall, it don't mean defeat
Watch me rise 'cause I always get back on my feet
I look up above, the tower looming over me
So many came before me but I finally have found the key
Up the stairs I climb I will not be swayed
I'm escaping death every step along the way

And despite the pain I'd do it all again
As long as I can see the dream to the end

No turning back, don't let go
Don't ever look back, look up in the sky keep up
Don't let go
You gotta just look ahead take a single step with no regret, whoa oh
Never let you go, never let you go
Only when the light inside is blinding bright will I go
