

Zoetrope

AmaLee

Like fragments of a dream fallen apart
I've lost the final pieces of my fragile heart
I don't know how I'll find myself but still I have to try
Till I reach the ends of this rainbow-colored sky

Running off of a flame that's fading
Trapped inside of a distant daydream
On a road that is ever-changing
Still I know I must go

Now I'm feeling my heart beat faster
Pulling forward and pushing backward
Take control and save my sorry soul
And make me whole
Silence my fear - Take me from here

As I slowly piece together everything I've seen
In this never-ending dream, I am trying to break free
From this carousel of memories that aren't even really what they seem Spinning fast and around me
Until I find the one that finally sets me free
