Comforter

Amanda Cook

Where there are no words,
And even breathing hurts
You're my comforter,
You're my comforter

You won't abandon me,
You're with me in the deep
And You won't let me sink,
And You won't let me sink

This will be my great redemption
While I'll weep, You'll set my feet to dancing

Where there are no words,
And even breathing hurts
You're my comforter,
You're my comforter

You won't abandon me,
You're with me in the deep
And You won't let me sink,
And You won't let me sink

This will be my great redemption
While I'll weep, You'll set my feet to dancing
Till You and me are the last ones standing
I learn to lean more than understanding

Cause You are always good
Cause You are always good
You are always good
You are always good
