

Enough

Amanda Cook

Last drop of my coffee's gone
I'm craving, craving
Love has left me lonely and alone
Depraving but they say

You're enough for me
You're all that I need, yeah
And anything more, anything less
Would leave me wanting or in excess
But you are enough for me

Want to hide from everyone around
I'm oversaturated
Don't know if I ever will be found
I'm complicated but you say

You're enough for me
You're all that I need, yeah
And anything more, anything less
Would leave me wanting or in excess
But you are enough for me

So I'll take a sip
I'll have a bit of what you're offering
I'll come inside for just awhile
I never thought
I'd take the invitation
Moving past my limitation

You're enough for me
You're all that I need, yeah
And anything more, anything less
Would leave me wanting or in excess
But you are enough for me
