

Redemption

Amanda Cook

Everything that I was to blame for
Was a trade for Your hand in mine
The spear that pierced the side of my Saviour
Was a payment for my life

You've seen every one of us flounder
In the water, we were drowning
But You dwell and delight in the impossible
Of raising us to our feet

Oh, love that runs on oceans with the least of these
Oh, love, my covering

Because You gave it all
When I fall from my feet, I know
Your love covers all
Covers all, covers all

You send word to open my shackles
Healing salve on my wrists and feet
Now the old is gone and forgotten
And the new is coming with the morning

Oh, love that never fails to set the prisoner free
Oh, love running wild with me

Because You gave it all
I can stand to my feet and know
Your love covers all
Covers all, covers all

Because You gave it all
When I fall from my feet, I know
Your love covers all
Covers all, covers all

Because You gave it all
I can stand to my feet and know
Your love covers all
Covers all, covers all
