

Undone

Amanda Cook

Never thought that I'd question everything that I knew
Never thought that I'd have trouble finding my way back to you
Well I've searched and I've found that there's nowhere to run to Nothing that I can hold onto
There's nothing that I can do

'Cause I'm coming undone
I am coming undone
And I love it
Yeah I love it
I'm coming undone
Because of you
Because of you

Never thought that I'd abandon everything I hold true
Never been so sure but I've never been so afraid to move
There's a hundred reasons for me not to follow this through
But every one of them has fallen into this sweet surrender to you

'Cause I'm coming undone
I am coming undone
And I love it
Yeah I love it
I'm coming undone
Because of you
Because of you

Because of you everything around me is unraveling to the core
Everything within me is wanting more of you, of you

'Cause I'm coming undone
I am coming undone
...
