

We Don't Run From Anyone

Amanda Delara

Welcome to my city where the lights are really pretty
No statue for a critic, we don't for anyone
We kept our face, so we could say
Yesterday was painful, now yesterday is dead
Yesterday is dead, breathe it in, breathe it out

Kings be falling, crowds be shouting
Change is coming, 'cause we don't run from anyone
Kings be falling, crowds be shouting
Change is coming, 'cause we don't run from anyone
'Cause we don't run from anyone
'Cause we don't run from anyone

Welcome to a city who will catch you if you fall
No statue for the pretty, we got crowns for all
And we get what we seek
Get your scissors, got the thread
Tell them yesterday is dead
Yesterday is dead, breathe it in, breathe it out

Kings be falling, crowds be shouting
Change is coming, 'cause we don't run from anyone
Kings be falling, crowds be shouting
Change is coming, 'cause we don't run from anyone
'Cause we don't run from anyone
'Cause we don't run from anyone

Breathe it in, breathe it out
We don't run from anyone
We don't run from anyone
We don't run from anyone
We don't run from anyone
We don't run from anyone
We don't run from anyone
We don't run from anyone
We don't run from anyone
We don't run from anyone
'Cause we don't run from anyone
'Cause we don't run from anyone
Breathe it in, breathe it out
'Cause we don't run from anyone
Breathe it in, breathe it out
We don't run from anyone
