

Open The Lid

Amanda Jenssen

Forget the world and places
Where we used to go
Forget the truth
We used to know
Forget your scent, your touch,
Your strange looking feet
Your love was meant for me
Your love was meant for me

Honey, come haunt me
Honey, come haunt me
Let us in
Honey, come haunt me
Honey, come haunt me
Break again
Crash as I remember it
Knocking on my head
Pick up every lock
Open the lid

Temper temper see
Pure and honest
He is not for me
Paper comet
Remember disappointment
Wrapped in circus glow
32 times now in a row
Remember parachutes
Too vague for us to see
Our love was meant to bleed
Our love was meant to bleed

Honey, come haunt me
Honey, come haunt me
Let us in
Honey, come haunt me
Honey, come haunt me
Break again
Crash as I remember it
Knocking on my head
Pick up every lock
Open the lid

Our love was meant to bleed
Your love was meant for me

Honey, come haunt me
Honey, come haunt me
