

Devastate

Amanda Shires

Your eyes are storms;
I can see the spirals forming
It's her
She's roaring blue;
Crossing your mind again without warning
It's her
She comes rolling on through like waves
I see the want in you radiate;
Why wait for the landfall?
Go on and go, devastate
You get so dark;
Does her voice light in you
Somewhere that I could never see?

And she comes rolling on through like waves
I see the want in you radiate;
Why wait for the landfall?
Go on and go, devastate
Our home, these walls;
You could level it all;
You have it in you, and it's enough
When she comes rolling over you like waves
I see the want in you radiate;
Why wait for the landfall?
Go on and go, devastate
