

How'm I doing? I don't know
Just here listening to Billy Joel
The Stranger album, trying to change my mood
Fight the blues with more blues

Lately I'd try anything to get back to laughing
To get back to smiling
Lately I spend all my time
Searching the sky for a silver lining

You at home, can you come down?
I spent all day just walking around
Helped some tourists find Chinatown
McCann's is open, we can burn it down

Lately I'd try anything to get back to laughing
To get back to smiling
Lately I spend all my time
Searching the sky for a silver lining

The silence is too noisy, and the music's too loud

Lately I'd try anything to get back to laughing
To get back to smiling
Lately I spend all my time
Searching the sky for a silver lining

Lately I'd try anything to get back to laughing
To find a silver lining
