

I Believe That I Can

Amanda Stott

If you look at the world through the eyes of a child
Showered with innocence dreams growin' wild
Following rainbows right to the end
Nothing's impossible then
If I stumble and fall I never stay down
'Cause there ain't a problem that won't turn around
I give it my all and try it again
And set my heart free on the wind

'Cause I don't need wings to fly
I just believe that I can
Those things that I can't change I leave
In someone else's hands
I just believe that I can

I've learned to have faith when there's no hope in sight
When that mountain ahead seems impossibly high
There must be a plan one I can't see
Or an angel tuned into my dreams

'Cause I don't need wings to fly
I just believe that I can
Those things that I can't change I leave
In someone else's hands
I just believe that I can

Reach for the sky, never say die
Shoot for the stars and the moon

No, I don't need wings to fly, I don't need wings
Those things that I can't change I leave
In someone else's hands
Oh, I just believe that I can I just believe that I can
