

Transhuman

Amaranthe

It's unknown what I am for the buyer
Have they cloned the american dream
Stand in line for a higher desire
It's a crack in this mortal machine

I'm enhanced a syntethical fire
I am a product of chaos and entropy
As the dust kicking in I get tired

Failed destiny facing liars
Let me know I'm the one, I am reborn in a cosmic fire
Will i die or return from my demise

Is it already over
Am I falling apart out of the dark
And into a fading white star
Is it already over
I'm descended from dreams
Unnatural light bright in my eyes
And that's why they call me transhuman

I've postponed the transformed revolution
It's a blueprint with silicon seams
Step by step I revoke the illusion
Of the force that's not meant to be seen

My revenge stands for words to inspire
Will humanity see what I need
My adrenaline feeds my desire
To become an immortal machine

Failed destiny facing liars
Let me know I'm the one, I am reborn in a cosmic fire
Will i die or return from my demise

Is it already over
Am I falling apart out of the dark
And into a fading white star
Is it already over
I'm descended from dreams
Unnatural light bright in my eyes
And that's why they call me transhuman

Is it already over
Am I falling apart out of the dark
And into a fading white star
Is it already over
I'm descended from dreams
Unnatural light bright in my eyes
And that's why they call me transhuman
