

When it all comes down

Amber Lawrence

Eventually you don't even notice the smell
Of the bleach and the machines keeping everybody well
And you walk past the same people everyday
Some of them fighting, some counting it away
And you think - does it all come down to this?

Eventually people won't visit as much
And you find out who your real friends are cause they still come
And some of them go the extra mile
Bringing homemade cakes, bringing a smile
And you think - does it all come down to this?

And when it all comes down to it
You're just praying please don't go yet
And how, how can this make sense
And when it falls apart around you
And there's nothing more your tears can do
You think - does it all come down to this?

Eventually your family grow kind of immune
Floating down the corridor like an old familiar tune
And they forget how life was just 5 months ago
Cause this is how it is, just go with the flow
And you think - does it all come down to this?

And when it all comes down to it
You're just praying please don't go yet
And how, how can this make sense
And when it falls apart around you
And there's nothing more your tears can do
You think - does it all come down to this?

And when it all comes down to it
You're just praying please don't go yet
And how, how can this make sense
And when it falls apart around you
And there's nothing more your tears can do
You think - does it all come down to this?

Eventually you'll walk back through our front door
And your hair will grow back and you'll have won the war
And we'll think, it all comes down to this
Yeah we'll think, it all comes down to love
