

Don't Remind Me

Amber Mark

Baby, you made a waste of me
Though you never meant to Fool, foolish to think I'd be
Really over this this soon

Feeling you back in my arms
Picturing that isn't hard
Leaves an emotional taste
Maybe time can erase, oh

I've been getting fucked up nightly
Anything that don't remind me
Take it too far, I might be
Anything that don't remind me
Don't remind me

Constantly follow me, haunting and calling me
Cautious, I oughta be, but ain't no stopping me
Older dichotomy, caught in between your charming generosity
Honestly, I can't think logically when you keep popping up
Like, "Hi, AP," how are you finding me?
Hogging and tying me, there's no denying
But I don't need no help from you to remind me

Feeling you back in my arms
In my arms, my arms
Picturing that isn't hard
Picturing that isn't hard
Leaves an emotional taste
Maybe time can erase, oh
Maybe time can erase, I hope so

I've been getting fucked up nightly
I've been getting fucked up, yeah
Anything that don't remind me
Take it too far, I might be
Each and every night for me
Anything that don't remind me

I've been getting fucked up nightly
Anything that don't remind me
Each and every night for me
Take it too far, I might be
Anything that don't remind me

I've been getting fucked up nightly
Anything that don't remind me
Take it too far, I might be
Anything that don't remind me
Baby, don't ya, don't remind me

Oh, I've been getting fucked up
I've been getting fucked up, yeah
In the night, every night
I've been getting fucked up
Oh
Oh
