

In all the ways that I tried to be perfect
You'd think that I would be worth waiting for
I'm not to blame for a life with a purpose
I've had enough I can't take this anymore

I would have given so much more

I'm not leaving, I'm not moving I refuse to go down alone
I'm not saving any reason to go back to what we use to know
You did me wrong I did what's right
You left me here, I'm not broke inside
Everyday I'm not afraid to feel alive
Without you by my side

All the things that I never saw coming
All the signs that I just ignored
It's hard for me just to be so different
You left my heart scattered out across the floor

I would have given so much more

I'm not leaving, I'm not moving I refuse to go down alone
I'm not saving any reason to go back to what we use to know
You did me wrong I did what's right
You left me here, I'm not broke inside
Everyday I'm not afraid to feel alive
Without you by my side

We use to be so young and free
I never wanted more
But somehow everything has changed
Light the flames to bring me back to shore
A love that felt like war

I'm not leaving, I'm not moving I refuse to go down alone
I'm not saving any reason to go back to what we use to know
You did me wrong I did what's right
You left me here, I'm not broke inside
Everyday I'm not afraid to feel alive
Without you in my life
Without you by my side