

I Dare You

Amber Run

I know I won't live forever
May only get this feeling once
I want to show you my devotion
A worship not taught at church

I Dare You
To jump into that sweet unknown
With me

Love has always been so lonely
So forgetful and unkind
But with you it feels holy
When we bloom in the dead of night

I Dare You
I Dare You
To jump into that sweet unknown
With me

I dare you, jump into the sky
And float in the blue
I dare you, take a bite out the sun
And fall in the gloom

I dare you, jump into the sky
And float in the blue
I dare you, take a bite out the sun
And fall through the gloom

'Cause I Dare You
'Cause I Dare You
To jump into that sweet unknown
With me
With me

So it must be
So it must be
A comfort in times like these
So it must be
