

Sunflower

Amber Run

So my love
Why cry alone?
Tell me what's going on at home
Fill your cup and wear your robe
You are my love
My sunflower

What's the buzz
What's on TV
What's brought you down here to your knees?
Would you like something sweet?
You are my love

And from your lips
You ask for mercy
Cry out loud loud loud
You know the world
Can spit out poison
Bring you down down down

My love, you've petals for your skin
So soft and delicate it is
It hides a fire that burns within
No sign, but power is power
I'll tend that garden on me knees
Until the roots grow over me
And I will fall fast asleep
Beside my sunflower
My my
My my
My my
My sunflower

So my love
Let's both grow old
Our hair turn grey
Our bodies fold
Back in the ground
Together go
Sew my love

And from your lips
You ask for mercy
Cry out loud loud loud
You know the world
Can spit out poison
Bring you down down down

My love, you've petals for your skin
So soft and delicate it is
It hides a fire that burns within
No sign, but power is power
I'll tend that garden on me knees
Until the roots grow over me
Beside my sunflower
My my

My my
My my
My sunflower
My my
My my
My my
My sunflower

Your words are songs
Your tears are showers
And from the earth burst golden towers
And better yet
You're mine, all mine
You're my sunflower

Your words are songs
And from the earth burst golden towers
And better yet
You're mine, all mine

My love, you've petals for your skin
So soft and delicate it is
It hides a fire that burns within
No sign, but power is power

I'll tend that garden on me knees
Until the roots grow over me
Beside my sunflower

My my
My my
My my
My sunflower
My my
My my
My my
My sunflower
