

The Weight

Amber Run

[Verse 1]

And I wake up early to watch you as you wake
And open your eyes to the sound of the rain

[Chorus]

Cuz I don't want money
And I don't want God
I just want to live under the weight of your love
I'd rather go blind, let my body go numb
Than to lose you or the weight of your love

[Verse 2]

Flick hair from your shoulder

And sleep marks your face
Retreat to the covers from the sound of the rain

[Chorus]

Cuz I don't want money
And I don't want God
I just want to live under the weight of your love
I'd rather go blind, let my body go numb
Than to lose you or the weight of your love
... Than to lose you or the weight of your love
