

Where Do We Go From Here

Amber Run

And if I can't have you,
feels like no one else deserves you or should love you.
And if this is what love is,
its a wonder why we chase it, or even want it.

But where do we go from here,
now your love is all but gone, my heart is bitter.

And no I couldn't fix you,
and nor should I ever do, nor should I ever do.
And if this is what love is,
its a step away from real life, a step away from real life.

But where do we go from here,
now that your love is all but gone, and my heart is bitter.
But where do we go from here,
now that your love is all but gone, my heart is bitter.
Bitter.

Where do we go from here,
now that your love is all but gone, and my heart is bitter.
Where do we go from here,
now that your love is all but gone, and my heart is bitter.
Where do we go from here,
now that your love is all but gone, and my heart is bitter.
