

Shine

Amel Larrieux

I made some decisions
Detrimental to my life
Put my trust in some translucent people
Now I see through them just fine
I've come back to the real world
And put my bitterness behind
Cuz revenge is not as sweet as my freedom
And no one's taking mine

Promises Broken
With endless waiting
Been so many mountains
I've had to climb
I got this feeling
Something is waiting
My destiny's changing
I'm about to shine

Experience has taught me
What I need to take me far
See I can mingle with my enemies
Cuz now I know who they are
I'm stronger then I've ever been
Got to be to survive
There's a test around the Corner trying to bring me down
But I'll never make the same mistake twice

Oh shine
