

Perfection

Amelia Moore

It's just another day on the Instagram picture
Ooh I can't believe that he really got with her
Did you catch my subtweet on my Twitter?
Yeah that's what I thought you seem kinda bitter
How many views did I get on my story?
Too many, too many I need all the glory
Stay away from basic baby never ever boring
Gotta keep it interesting and make the top forty

Girl you just doing the most
You know I see those pictures you post
Baby I'm goin' crazy
Everybody's shady lately

All I see is empty bottles, hungry models
The sickest party, he feels awful
If she feels sorry reading the gospel
Sippin' Bacardi
She really thinks that she is Barbie, new Harley
I'm a makeup artist you're heartless
I just bought a cherry red Ferrari
Hashtag new, hashtag don't you cross me

It's just another guy tryna slide in my DM
I know who he is but I haven't even seen him
Looking like he's got a girl but I think she should leave him
(Look it's 2018- do you really need him)

Follow me and double tap to like it
If you like what you see subscribe
Comment your name if you see the secret
And if you see it I'll reply
Only wanna see it if it's perfection
Take a picture with a filter from the snap
Post it on the gram and wait for you to hit me, back

Life is more than a connection
I wonder what would happen if you
Asked about my day and not the Wi-Fi
I, should be counting my blessings
Instead I'm missing the message
I'm messing with the likes
The likes are messing with me
This life is gettin' to be
I care too much for the comments

I care too much for the lies but

I'm scrolling scrolling and I wonder why
Why
