

Hard To Quit

American Aquarium

Baby won't you come to bed
And kick off those skinny jeans
Take off what you're wearin'
And let down your hair and
Let me show you how good a mistake can really be

Nobody's ever kissed me like you do
And I don't think anyone ever will
The way you bite my lower lip
And the way my fingertips
Turn on the woman inside of you

Why can't we make this work?
Just tell me what I gotta fix
You ain't gotta stay
But please don't walk away
'Cause you're the hardest thing I've ever had to quit

I'll never forget those nights
In a dirty hotel room
If I had it my way
We'd head out on that highway
And we'd never look back just living between the lines

But your eyes that tell me more
Than your tongue ever will
You just can't help it
You're in love with someone else, kid
And I'm stuck here falling in love with you

Why can't we make this work?
Just tell me what I gotta fix
You ain't gotta stay
But please don't walk away
'Cause you're the hardest thing I've ever had to quit

This shirt still smells like you
I haven't washed these clothes in weeks
I'm killing myself
Just listening to old voicemails
Just to hear the way you said goodbye
Just to hear the way you said goodbye
