

The First Year

American Aquarium

It's finally here that time of year when your favourite flowers start to bloom
And the showers of April cascade into the summer we call June Yesterday was my birthday, first one since you been gone
All my friends say it gets easier, all my friends have been know n to be wrong

You left in such a hurry, I had so much left to say
I was just passin' by thought I'd stop and say hi
And that I miss you, Happy Mother's Day

The two of you said 'I do' July four of seventy six
And it was all sunshine and rainbows 'til you threw a couple babies in the mix
A shining example of what love could truly be Like a castle made of sand watched that mountain of a man fall apart when they laid to rest his queen

I'm just passin' by thought I'd stop and say hi
And that I miss you, Happy Independence Day

Last New Year's Eve was like no other New Year before You never think you'll get that call 'til that call comes knock in' at your door

I was passin' by thought I'd stop and say hi
And that I miss you, Happy New Year's Day
