

Colder Than Death

American Nightmare

Colder than death
Colder than death
At the end of the night with nothing left
And I'm losing my light
And I'm losing my grip

And I'm losing my faith
And I'm holding my breath

Colder than death
Colder than death
Staring it down on the edge of a cliff
And it's all that I know
And there's nowhere to go
I was thrown from the throne to the thrones

How does it feel
When the days drag into days
And where do you go
When you gotta get away
How does it feel
When the days drag into days
And where do you go
When you gotta get away
But can't get away

Colder than life
Colder than life
The prison of skin that I'm trapped in
And the violence needs that the venom bleeds
And I'm seeing red
And I'm on my knees

Colder than life
Colder than life
Living it down on the edge of a knife
Redemption is a drag still unpaved
It's darkest when illusion lights the way

The loss of joy verse the joy of loss
You can't have it all but you can have enough
Enough?
It's never enough

I used to try to die
Just to feel alive
High is the low
Lowest I get
I haven't found
The middle yet
