

Time Gone By

American Steel

So alone
the ghosts of ex-lovers haunt me like they haunt this town broken life broken dreams and a fked up heart i've got a bottle of bargain scotch and thats a start christ look how this time's gone by look at our rotting livers and our wasted lives never alone
our friends leave broken bottles all over our broken home it's the same scene every night we sit around, drink, fk or fight christ look how this time's gone by look at our rotting livers and our wasted minds
