

Masterpiece

Amina Buddafly

So you can do better, baby never, show me one that's as good as me
Careful don't you let her see or hear what we had and she could never be
I know us breaking up's for the better and I hope you can treat her right
Though she don't deserve it like I, maybe she deserves much
Better
But anyways

You gon be sorry, you gon regret
You won't ever forget
The times that you asked I came through and add
Whole bunch of stuff on top of that
I got you right now I'm out your life
Do you realize
You just lost a masterpiece
In me

And you'll never show it, but I know it
You gon rebound and it will suck
Distract yourself hoeing then come home and
Think about me and with no luck
Gon tex me WYA
I want you back
Too bad it will never get through
Cause when you left I blocked you
Now you're the one who's the fool

You gon be sorry, you gon regret
You won't ever forget
The times that you asked I came through and add
Whole bunch of stuff on top of that
I got you right now I'm out your life
Do you realize
You just lost a masterpiece
In me

You had it all, yeah, you had my all
Now why would you drop the ball
How could you go and throw it away?
Had the best of me
Now I'm bowing out gracefully
No-one gets it, but my guess is: not everyone is meant to possess it...

The greatest thing that you ever come across, so spacial and rare it's Not even fair it's, more like you can't afford the cost of what I simply am
So you was not meant, to hold on to me anyways
Now I am here for display
And the price goes up today

You gon be sorry, you gon regret
You won't ever forget
The times that you asked I came through and add
Whole bunch of stuff on top of that
I got you right now I'm out your life
Do you realize
You just lost a masterpiece
In me
You gon be sorry, you gon regret

You won't ever forget
The times that you asked I came through and add
Whole bunch of stuff on top of that
I got you right now I'm out your life
Do you realize
You just lost a masterpiece
In me
